Mikhail Prokhorov, through Onexim Sports & Entertainment, is the principal owner of the Nets.

Mikhail is the principal owner of Onexim Group, a private investment holding company created in 2007. Among the assets currently owned and/or managed by Onexim Group are metals companies (Rusal, MMC InterGeo) financial services (Renaissance Capital, IFC-Bank, Soglassye Insurance Company), media outlets (RBC, Mediagroup JV, Snob and Russian Pioneer magazines, FIT television channel, F5 web portal/newspaper), real estate development (Open Investments), utilities (Quadra) and high technology (Optogan, VOT-Capital).

Prior to Onexim Group, Mikhail was the Chief Executive Officer of Norilsk Nickel, the world's largest producer of nickel and palladium, from 2001 to 2007. In this capacity, in addition to transforming Norilsk Nickel into one of the world's premiere mining and metals companies, he spearheaded the company's investments in sports, including leading CSKA to two Euroleague basketball championships.

Before joining Norilsk Nickel, Mikhail was the President of Rosbank, a leading Russian commercial bank, from 2000 to 2001. From 1992 to 1993, he was Chairman of the Board of International Finance Company, a Russian commercial bank.

In 2011, Mikhail stepped away from the day-to-day management of his assets to enter the political realm. He briefly headed a political party, and then campaigned as an independent candidate for the presidency of the Russian Federation.

Mikhail was born in Moscow, Russia in 1965. His mother, Tamara, was a chemical engineer and his father, Dmitry, was head of the international department for the Soviet Sport Committee, a circumstance that greatly influenced his love of sports from an early age.

Mikhail is passionate about sports and, in addition to basketball, enjoys windsurfing, jet skiing, heli-skiing and kickboxing. He also serves as President of the Russian Biathlon Union.

Mikhail created the Mikhail Prokhorov Foundation in 2004 to support a wide range of causes, from sports to cultural development. The Prokhorov Foundation is run by Mikhail's sister, Irina.

2015-16 BROOKLYN NETS MEDIA GUIDE

Brett Yormark
Chief Executive Officer
Brooklyn Nets and Barclays Center

As the Chief Executive Officer of the Brooklyn Nets and Barclays Center, Brett Yormark oversaw all aspects of the team's move to the new arena in Brooklyn in 2012, including the rebranding, marketing, and sponsorship sales. Since he joined the Nets in 2005, Yormark's mission has been to make it the most accessible, inventive, fan-friendly, and community-active team in sports.

In his role as CEO of Barclays Center, Yormark has oversight for all facets of the sports and entertainment venue, including operations, event programming, sales, and marketing.

Under the partnership between Mikhail Prokhorov and Bruce Ratner, Yormark reports to the Board of Directors of both the Nets and Barclays Center. In January 2007, Yormark secured a 20-year strategic marketing partnership with Barclays, which includes the naming rights to Barclays Center.

In keeping with his goal to bring the best programming to Barclays Center, Yormark has secured high-profile programming alliances with the leaders in concerts, professional boxing, top college basketball, and family shows. Some of the programming alliances include Live Nation for concerts, the Atlantic 10 for the league's post-season tournament, Feld Entertainment for family shows such as Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus and Disney on Ice, and Dick Clark productions, which broadcasts worldwide Barclays Center's renowned New Year's Eve concerts on ABC's Dick Clark's Rockin' Eve with Ryan Seacrest.

In making Barclays Center a must-play for college basketball, Yormark secured an agreement with the ACC to bring its storied men's basketball tournament to Barclays Center in 2017 and 2018, and also has arranged for Barclays Center to be a host site of the 2016 NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament. Furthermore, in fortifying Barclays Center as the center of boxing in the country, Yormark has helped bring several nationally televised Premier Boxing Champions events to the venue in 2015. Overall, Barclays Center has hosted more than 100 fights and 28 world championship bouts.

Yormark was also instrumental in facilitating the move of the New York Islanders to Barclays Center, and is spearheading the team's marketing, ticket and sponsorship sales, and in-game experience.

In leading the Brooklyn Nets' relocation and marketing campaign, Yormark developed and transformed the Nets brand from a sports logo to a trendy lifestyle brand, revolutionizing the public appeal through marketing, partnerships, and public relations efforts. In 2012, the team's first year in Brooklyn, the Nets reached the top five in merchandise sales at the NBA Store and on NBAstore.com, after the team was last in the league in merchandise sales during its final season in New Jersey.

Yormark and the Nets marketing team created and introduced the team's successful "Hello Brooklyn" campaign, a multifaceted marketing campaign that built a connection between the borough and its new home team, and captured the attitude, pride, and history of Brooklyn. #hellobrooklyn was seen by 25 million Twitter users on April 30, 2012, the launch day of the Brooklyn Nets brand. Yormark was also instrumental in arranging for the unique black-and-white color scheme of the Brooklyn Nets, who became the first team in the NBA to wear the color combination. Yormark also oversaw the creation and implementation of the "Are You Ready?" marketing campaign for the 2013-14 season, as well as the "We Are Brooklyn" campaign for the 2014-15 season.

Yormark negotiated the agreement with JAY Z to open Barclays Center with eight consecutive nights of concerts starting on Sept. 28, 2012. JAY Z unveiled the Brooklyn Nets jersey on stage, marrying sports and entertainment in unprecedented fashion.

Through the arena's partnership with Disney Institute, Yormark has made great customer service a priority at Barclays Center. With its comprehensive program, Disney Institute has trained Barclays Center and Nets employees in providing a guest experience that is unmatched by any major sports and entertainment venue in New York.

Yormark has also been instrumental in launching The Shops at Barclays Center, a retail destination at the arena, which includes the Nets Shop by adidas, Sugar Factory and the street accessible Starbucks. In addition, Yormark was influential in negotiating a partnership with Tribune Media's New York television station, PIX11, which now has New York's only Brooklyn bureau which is headquartered inside the arena where it broadcasts live daily.

Yormark teamed with Ratner to secure the winning bid to renovate and operate the Nassau Veterans Memorial Coliseum on Long Island. Upon completion of renovations in the fourth quarter of 2016, the venue will host world-class sports and entertainment events, and will also offer a surrounding development that will include a movie theater, restaurants and food bazaar, and a retail destination.

Yormark will also be leading the business operations of the LIU Brooklyn Paramount Theatre, which will soon undergo a 24-month renovation led by Ratner and Onexim Sports and Entertainment. The venue will host more than 120 events annually, with a focus on booking emerging talent.

Yormark joined the Nets after a successful six-year period with NASCAR, for which he helped build the stock-car racing company into a major sports property. As vice president, corporate marketing in 2003, he oversaw a $750 million deal with Nextel Communications -- changing the name of stock car racing's premier circuit to the NASCAR Nextel Cup -- at the time the largest sponsorship agreement in the history of American sports.

Yormark has been named the maximum three times to the "Forty Under 40" list by Sports Business Journal and was selected twice to the "40 Under 40" list by Crain's New York Business. In 2013, Yormark was honored by March of Dimes with the "Sports Leadership Award." He has been profiled in Newsweek, Fortune, Sports Illustrated, Gotham, Hamptons, Success, The New York Times, and USA Today, and on CBS Sunday Morning, CNN, and CNBC.

Yormark sits on the board of the City Parks Foundation, as well as NYC & Company. He is the proud father of Madison, 14, and Drake, 11, and is married to Elaina Scotto.

Billy King
General Manager

Billy King was named as the Nets' general manager on July 14, 2010, and oversees all aspects of the team's basketball operations.

Under King's stewardship, the Nets made their historic shift from New Jersey to Brooklyn and Barclays Center, where the team has made three consecutive playoff appearances, the longest postseason streak since the Nets qualified for the playoffs six straight years from 2001-07.

In 2014, the Nets advanced to the playoffs for the second consecutive season, defeating the Atlantic Division champion Toronto Raptors in an epic seven-game First Round series, marking the franchise's first-ever game seven victory, before falling to the eventual Eastern Conference champion Miami Heat in the Eastern Conference Semifinals.

This past offseason, King was able to sign the Nets top free agents, Brook Lopez and Thaddeus Young, while once again displaying his draft-night acumen to move up the board and snag Rondae Hollis-Jefferson of Arizona with the 23rd overall selection.

King joined the Nets after spending 10 years with the Philadelphia 76ers organization, serving as the team's president from 2003-07. King joined the 76ers in June, 1997 as vice president of basketball administration, a role in which he served as the point person for basketball operations. Less than a year later he was promoted to general manager, a position he held until being named team president following the 2002-03 season.

During his 10-year tenure, King guided the team to five consecutive playoff appearances (1999-2003), including the 2000-01 season in which the Sixers captured the Atlantic Division title on the heels of a 56-26 season. The Sixers went on to win their first Eastern Conference Championship since 1983, advancing to the 2001 NBA Finals.

Before joining the 76ers, King served as an assistant coach for the Indiana Pacers for four seasons under Larry Brown. He joined the professional ranks after spending four seasons as an assistant at Illinois State University under Head Coach Bob Bender. King also spent one year as a color analyst for ESPN's basketball coverage of the Ohio Valley Conference.

Holding several roles within the USA Basketball program throughout his career, King has served as a member of USA Basketball Men's Senior National Team Program Advisory Panel, on USA Basketball's Board of Directors, as treasurer of USA Basketball and as an athlete representative on the 1997-2000 executive committee. King also served on the USA Basketball Men's Senior National Team Committees for the 1997-2000 and 2001-04 terms.

During his collegiate career, King was an outstanding defensive player on Duke University's nationally ranked teams in the late 1980s and received the 1987-88 Henry Iba Corinthian National Defensive Player of the Year award following his senior season. King helped the Blue Devils to a 112-27 record, an average of 28 wins per season, as Duke went to the Final Four twice, won the Atlantic Coast Conference regular-season championship and two ACC Tournament titles. In 1987, he helped the USA Basketball Men's World University Games silver-medal squad to a 7-1 record.

King has been honored and recognized by numerous organizations for his dedication and commitment to success. In July, 2000, he was honored as the Sports Executive of the Year at the Rainbow Sports Awards, reflecting not only his accomplishments in the sports industry, but also for the grace, dignity, commitment and humanity that he exemplifies throughout his everyday life. In 2001, 'Street and Smith's Business Journal' named him one the industries "Forty under 40." He was also inducted into Duke University's Hall of Honor on Dec. 2, 2001, in its charter group. In May 2003, Sports Illustrated named King one of the "101 Most Influential Minorities in Sports," a list that included "men and women that are reshaping the sports industry and opening doors through which others will follow." King also was honored by the African-American Ethnic Sports Hall of Fame as the NBA Executive of the Year in July, 2003.

Born Jan. 23, 1966, King was a political science major at Duke and follows national and local politics closely. He is also a movie buff and early in his career hosted his own movie review show for WBNQ-Radio in Bloomington, Ill. titled "Kings Clips."

King resides in Brooklyn with his wife, Melanie and their two children, daughter, Natane and son, Reggie.

Lionel Hollins Head Coach

Lionel Hollins was named as the 19th head coach in Nets NBA franchise history on July 7, 2014. In his first season in Brooklyn, Hollins led the Nets to their third consecutive playoff berth, and his teams have now made the postseason in four of his five full seasons as a head coach (including the lockout-shortened 2011-12 season).

A veteran of over 23 years of NBA coaching experience, Hollins most recently served as head coach of the Memphis Grizzlies in 2012-13, where he guided the team to a franchise record 56 wins and reached the Western Conference Finals. Hollins took the helm in Memphis midway through the 2008-09 season and led the Grizzlies to consecutive postseason appearances in his final three campaigns as coach. In his four-plus season stint as head coach, Hollins garnered a record of 196-155 (.558).

The Las Vegas native was an original member of the Vancouver franchise as an assistant coach, and was a staple on the sidelines for 10 of the club's first 12 seasons (1995-00, 2002-07). Hollins twice served as the Grizzlies' interim head coach, when he guided Vancouver to an 18-42 finish (.300) in 1999-00, and again took over for four games in 2004-05, following the resignation of Hubie Brown. Overall, Hollins owns a career NBA coaching record of 214-201 (.516). Prior to joining the Grizzlies, the Arizona State graduate spent seven years with the Phoenix Suns (1988-95) as an assistant coach under Cotton Fitzsimmons and later Paul Westphal. He began his coaching career as an assistant at Arizona State in 1985 and served for part of the 2008-09 season as an assistant coach for the Milwaukee Bucks.

Hollins honed his straightforward approach by serving under three NBA Coaches of the Year, including Brown, Fitzsimmons and Mike Fratello and was on the coaching staff when Brown and Fitzsimmons were honored with the award a second time. During his 10-year playing career (1975-85) in the NBA, Hollins was led by several notable head coaches, including the NBA's all-time coaching wins leader and Hall of Famer Lenny Wilkens, Hall of Famers Billy Cunningham, Chuck Daly and Jack Ramsay, as well as Bill Fitch and Paul Silas.

Selected sixth overall in the first round of the 1975 NBA Draft by the Portland Trail Blazers, Hollins earned a spot on the 1976 All-Rookie First Team and won an NBA Championship as a starter for the Trail Blazers in 1977. A year later, he was an NBA All-Star while also being named to the NBA's All-Defensive First Team. Hollins averaged 11.6 points, 4.5 assists and 1.6 steals over 673 career games with the Trail Blazers, Philadelphia 76ers, San Diego Clippers, Detroit Pistons and Houston Rockets.

Hollins has been inducted into the Halls of Fame of the NCAA, Arizona State University, Nevada High School Basketball, Southern Nevada Sports and the Pac-10. In addition, he has been named one of the Top 100 athletes of Nevada and one of the top 150 athletes of Arizona. His No. 14 jersey is retired by the Trail Blazers and his No. 33 jersey was raised to the rafters by Arizona State. Hollins has also had the distinction of serving on the NBA's competition committee, which recommends changes to playing rules or any other competition-related matters to the Board of Governors for its consideration and vote.

Hollins has been extremely active in the community, having served on the Board of Directors for the Grizzlies Foundation. In addition, in conjunction with Lionel Hollins Charities, he established the annual Bowling for Backpacks event, which has raised thousands of dollars to purchase school supplies and uniforms for underprivileged youth since its inception in 2003, and the Role Models Dinner, which includes a fine dining experience and a connection with mentors that volunteer for one year at their school. Hollins has been involved with a Christmas holiday charity Bike Buddies event, held in conjunction with the Memphis Police and Fire Departments, distributing bikes, helmets and books, as well as teaching fire safety lessons to children. He also started a community garden with United Healthcare to promote healthy eating habits to Memphis middle and high school students.

CONTRACT STATUS: Signed through the 2016-17 season.

2014-15 SEASON (Brooklyn Nets): Was named to the NBA All-Rookie Second Team after appearing in 78 games, including 28 starts, and averaging 9.0 points on .453 shooting, including .355 shooting from 3-point range, 2.7 rebounds and 0.9 assists in 23.8 minutes per game... Became the first second round pick in franchise history to be named to the All-Rookie team... Made his NBA debut on 10/29 at BOS, scoring seven points in 26 minutes... Led the team in scoring six times and led or tied for the team lead in steals five times and blocks once... Started the first 19 games of the season before moving to a bench role... Scored in double figures 35 times, including six games of 20+ points... Scored a career-high 28 points (12-17 FG) in the Nets' final regular season game on 4/15 vs. ORL... Bogdanovic's 28 points were the most for a Net in the 82nd and final game of the regular season since Vince Carter scored 37 points on 4/20/05 at BOS to clinch a playoff spot for the Nets... The 28 points were the most for a Nets' rookie off the bench since at least 1985-86, and Bogdanovic became one of three rookies to score that many points off the bench in a game last season (Zach LaVine, Nikola Mirotic)... Scored 22 points three times (11/9 vs. ORL, 11/17 vs. MIA and 4/10 vs. WAS)... After averaging 7.6 points (.411 FG, .310 3FG) in 23.0 minutes per game in 51 games prior to the All-Star break, Bogdanovic averaged 11.6 points (.513 FG, .429 3FG) in 25.8 minutes per game in 27 games after the break... Finished the season with 91 3-pointers, the second-most 3-pointers made for a rookie in Nets' history (trailing only Kerry Kittles, who made 158 in 1996-97)... Made a career-high and Nets' season-high (among all Nets' players) six 3-pointers, matching a Nets' single game rookie record for 3-pointers made (previously set by Kittles on 2/17/97 at CLE) on 4/10 vs. WAS... Made all six of his attempts from long range in the game, becoming just the second player in Nets' history to make six or more threes in a game without a miss (Boki Nachbar was 6-6 from long range on 4/15/07 at IND)... Among all qualifying rookies, finished first in 3-point field goal percentage (.355), seventh in minutes per game (23.8) and sixth in points per game (9.0)... Came off the bench to play a career-high 49 minutes on 3/20 vs. MIL (triple OT), which marked an NBA season-high for minutes played by a reserve. He also became just the third Net in the last 30 years to play 48+ minutes in a game he didn't start (Terrence Williams, Leon Wood)... Scored 21 points on a perfect 8-of-8 shooting on 3/21 at IND... Finished fifth among all rookies in total minutes played (1,854) and tied for second in 3-pointers made (91)... His 28 starts were third-most among all rookies on a playoff-bound team, trailing only teammate Markel Brown (29 starts) and Boston's Marcus Smart (38 starts)... 2015-16 BROOKLYN NETS MEDIA GUIDE

Year-by-Year Recaps: 1982-83

Nets add Darryl Dawkins in trade with Philadelphia; Larry Brown resigns as Head Coach

Final Record: 49-33 (.598)

Head Coach: Larry Brown: 47-29 (.618); Bill Blair: 2-4 (.333)

Darryl Dawkins becomes a Net in an August 27 trade with Philadelphia. The Nets begin the season with Phil Ford replacing Ray Williams at point guard. Seven games into the season, Ford is traded for Mickey Johnson, whose fine all-around play leads the team to a franchise record 11 straight wins from December 23, 1982, to January 12, 1983. Johnson and '82 first round choice Sleepy Floyd are dealt to Golden State for guard Micheal Ray Richardson on February 6. New Jersey wins a team record 49 games. The Nets go into their second straight playoff appearance hobbled by injuries and without coach Larry Brown, who left the team for the University of Kansas on April 7 with six games to play. Under interim coach Bill Blair, the Nets go 2-4 and fall to the Knicks in two straight playoff games. Albert King and Buck Williams tie for the team scoring lead at 17 ppg.

2015-16 BROOKLYN NETS MEDIA GUIDE

Year-by-Year Recaps: 1984-85

Nets log 223 games missed to injury; Team earns fourth consecutive playoff berth; Albeck resigns following the season

Final Record: 42-40 (.512)

Head Coach: Stan Albeck

An amazing string of injuries sideline Darryl Dawkins for 43 games, Albert King 40, Mike O'Koren 39 and Otis Birdsong 26, just to name a few. Despite the physical woes which lead to 16 different rosters and 13 different starting lineups, Head Coach Stan Albeck guides the club to a winning record and a third place finish in the tough Atlantic Division. Richardson enjoys his best NBA campaign, making his fourth All-Star appearance and becoming the first player to win three NBA steals titles. Richardson is named Comeback Player-of-the-Year. Williams leads the league in minutes played and becomes the eighth player and first forward to record 1,000 or more rebounds in each of his first four seasons. Albeck resigns June 13, 1985, to become head coach of the Chicago Bulls.

2015-16 BROOKLYN NETS MEDIA GUIDE

Year-by-Year Recaps: 1985-86

Nets name Dave Wohl as their seventh Head Coach; Team finishes below .500 for first time in five years, but still makes playoffs for fifth consecutive season

Head Coach: Dave Wohl

A long search for a new coach produces hard-working Dave Wohl, who immediately installs a running attack in New Jersey. Nets get out of gate quickly at 23-14, when Michael Ray Richardson suffers a drug relapse. Richardson is banned from the league on February 25, as a three-time violator of the NBA drug policy. Darryl Dawkins suffers a back injury and misses 31 of the last 32 games. Mike Gminski enjoys his best year, leading the team in scoring as well as having a career night April 9, scoring 41 points and grabbing 22 rebounds in leading the club to a win over Boston. Buck Williams has another solid year and makes his third All-Star appearance.

2015-16 BROOKLYN NETS MEDIA GUIDE

Year-by-Year Recaps: 1986-87

Nets fail to make playoffs for first time in six years; Harry Weltman joins club in March as General Manager

Head Coach: Dave Wohl

Dave Wohl enters the season with optimism, but the team is struck with injuries. Darryl Dawkins goes down with back pain after six games, Otis Birdsong is lost for the season after 13 games. Team loses a total of 252 games due to injury. Orlando Woolridge leads the club in scoring with a 20.7 average, the first Net forward to average 20+ since 1978-79. Buck Williams just misses a team rebounding record and is the only Net to play in all 82 games. Nets tie for the second-worst record in their history. Harry Weltman joins the team to head basketball operations and Dave Wohl signs a contract extension.

2015-16 BROOKLYN NETS MEDIA GUIDE

Year-by-Year Recaps: 1987-88

Nets set league mark with 346 games lost to injury; Name NBA Hall of Fame Center Willis Reed Head Coach

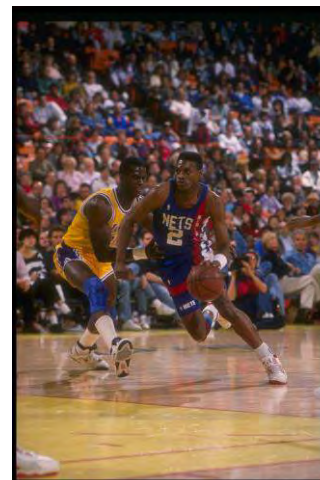

Final Record: 19-63 (.231)

Head Coach: Dave Wohl: 2-13 (.133); Bob MacKinnon: 10-29 (.256); Willis Reed: 7-21 (.250)

Nets sputter to a 2-13 start, leading to the release of Head Coach Dave Wohl on December 9. Assistant General Manager Bob MacKinnon takes over the injury-riddled squad on an interim basis as club begins an extensive search for a head coach. Nets ownership and management proudly name legendary center Willis Reed to lead the Nets on February 29th. Buck Williams misses his first ever pro game due to injury, yet leads the club in scoring, rebounding and field goal percentage. Attendance increases for the first time since franchise shift to Meadowlands in 1981. Roy Hinson, John Bagley, Keith Lee and Tim McCormick are acquired via trades.

2015-16 BROOKLYN NETS MEDIA GUIDE

Year-by-Year Recaps: 1989-90

Willis Reed relinquishes coaching duties to become Senior VP/Basketball Operations; Bill Fitch takes over as Head Coach; Buck Williams traded for Sam Bowie; Harry Weltman resigns following season

Final Record: 17-65 (.207)

Head Coach: Bill Fitch

In August of 1989, Willis Reed moves to the front office as Bill Fitch takes over head coaching duties. Prior to the coaching change, the Nets trade eight-year veteran Buck Williams to Portland for center Sam Bowie and the 12th pick in the NBA Draft, which is used to select point guard Mookie Blaylock. Bowie, after almost two years of inactivity due to leg problems, plays in 68 games and leads the team with 10.1 rpg and 1.8 bpg. The Nets struggle throughout the season and post their worst record in franchise history. Positives include holding the Celtics to a franchise-low 78 points and an all-time low six points in one quarter. Harry Weltman resigns May 8, citing health and personal reasons.

Year-by-Year Recaps: 1992-93

NBA and Olympic Championship Coach Chuck Daly takes over Nets; Nets battle Cleveland in five game playoff series; Drazen Petrovic killed in automobile accident

Final Record: 43-39 (.524)

Head Coach: Chuck Daly

Chuck Daly, who guided the Pistons to two World Championships and the United States to the 1992 Olympic Gold medal, takes over the Nets and immediately makes an impression on his players. Daly has the Nets soaring with a 42-29 record in April, breathing down the necks of the first place Knicks. Starting point guard Kenny Anderson goes down with a broken wrist and the Nets stumble, finishing the season with a 1-10 fade. The Nets battle the Cavs in the playoffs, despite being without Anderson and centers Sam Bowie and Chris Dudley. Derrick Coleman nearly handles Cleveland by himself, posting monster numbers throughout the series. The Cavs win in five games. Tragedy strikes the Nets family in June, overshadowing the success of the season, when star shooting guard Drazen Petrovic is killed in an automobile accident on June 8, in Germany. Petrovic had established himself as one of the top outside marksmen in the NBA, and his death left the Nets with an enormous hole to fill, both on the court and in their hearts.

2015-16 BROOKLYN NETS MEDIA GUIDE

Year-by-Year Recaps: 1993-94

Nets rally after difficult start to tie club's second-best NBA mark; Playoff bound for the third straight season; Anderson and Coleman become first Nets to start NBA All-Star Game; Daly calls it a career

Final Record: 45-37 (.549)

Head Coach: Chuck Daly

The Nets open the season with many new faces, struggle out of the gate, and stand at 13-20 on January 13th. A season-high five-game winning streak follows, as New Jersey is one of the hottest teams in the NBA the rest of the season. Kenny Anderson and Derrick Coleman become the first Nets ever elected to start in the NBA All-Star Game, which takes place in Minneapolis. Joining them in the Twin Cities is rookie P.J. Brown, selected to play in the first-ever Schick Rookie All-Star Game. New Jersey falls in the first round of the playoffs to eventual NBA Finalist New York, three games to one. The Nets had won four of the five regular season meetings between the two clubs. Head Coach Chuck Daly, who had been inducted into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame during the season, retires from coaching in June to pursue a broadcasting career with both the Nets and TBS.

Blockbuster trade brings in Gill and Reeves, but the Nets lose trio of key players to free agency

Final Record: 30-52 (.366)

Head Coach: Butch Beard

The Nets experienced a roller coaster season, which included two blockbuster trades. Shawn Bradley, Greg Graham and Tim Perry were acquired from Philadelphia in exchange for the Nets former All-Star Derrick Coleman, Sean Higgins, and Rex Walters on November 30th. On January 19, the Nets sent Kenny Anderson and Gerald Glass to the Charlotte Hornets in return for veteran Kendall Gill and guard Khalid Reeves. With the Nets, Bradley became the first player in NBA history to record double-figure blocks in two consecutive games on two different occasions. Following the All-Star break, the Nets won five consecutive games, their longest winning streak since the 1993 season. Following the season, Chris Childs, Armon Gilliam and P.J. Brown were lost due to free agency. Following season, Head Coach Butch Beard was released and John Calipari, former coach of UMass, was signed to a five-year contract as Executive V.P. of Basketball Operations and Head Coach.

2015-16 BROOKLYN NETS MEDIA GUIDE

Year-by-Year Recaps: 1996-97

John Calipari named Head Coach and Executive V.P. of Basketball Operations; Nets remake team in mid-season; Blockbuster nine-player trade with Dallas brings Nets Cassell, Gatling, Jackson, McCloud & Montross;

Final Record: 26-56 (.317)

Head Coach: John Calipari

The Nets opened the 1996-97 season with one look, and ended the season with a drastic makeover from their October training camp photos. First-year Head Coach John Calipari, along with General Manager John Nash, pulled off a nine-player trade with the Dallas Mavericks on February 17, one of the largest player swaps in NBA history. The Nets sent Shawn Bradley, Khalid Reeves, Ed O'Bannon and Robert Pack packing in exchange for Jim Jackson, Sam Cassell, Chris Gatling, Eric Montross and George McCloud. McCloud was subsequently traded to the Lakers for Joe Kleine and draft picks. The Nets showed signs of heading in the right direction under Coach Cal, defeating the Bulls and the Knicks on March 14 and 16, respectively. Kendall Gill had a career-year, averaging 21.8 ppg (10th in the NBA), while rookie guard Kerry Kittles averaged 16.4 ppg in an outstanding freshman campaign. Jayson Williams, despite missing 41 games due to injury, averaged 13.4 ppg and 13.5 rpg, both career-highs. Prior to the 1997 NBA Draft, the Nets completed another major player transaction, this time an eight-player deal with the Philadelphia 76ers. The Nets acquired the rights to the Number Two overall draft pick, Utah All-American Keith Van Horn, along with Michael Cage, Don MacLean and Lucious Harris, in exchange for Jim Jackson, Eric Montross and the rights to the Nets two first round draft picks, Tim Thomas and Anthony Parker.

2015-16 BROOKLYN NETS MEDIA GUIDE

Year-by-Year Recaps: 1997-98

Nets make NBA Playoffs for the first time in four years; Jayson Williams named NBA All-Star; Keith Van Horn selected to Schick Rookie All-Star Game coached by Nets Senior VP Willis Reed; Complete mid-season five player trade bringing the Nets Rony Seikaly and Brian Evans

Final Record: 43-39 (.531)

Head Coach: John Calipari

The Nets opened the 1997-98 campaign with a record-setting four-game winning streak, finishing the first month of the season with a 10-5 mark, which included an opening night win (October 31) over the Indiana Pacers in Larry Bird's coaching debut. Rookie forward Keith Van Horn, who missed the first 17 games of the season with a sprained right ankle, made his NBA debut in December and finished the season leading the Nets in scoring at 19.7 ppg. Nets center Jayson Williams finished second in the NBA in rebounding at 13.6 rpg and grabbed a league-high 443 offensive rebounds. Jayson's play earned him his first-ever selection to the NBA All-Star Game, as he was the lone metropolitan representative in the contest, which was played at Madison Square Garden. Keith Van Horn also enjoyed the All-Star festivities, participating in the Schick Rookie All-Star Game. Following the All-Star break, the Nets completed a five-player trade with the Orlando Magic, obtaining center Rony Seikaly and forward Brian Evans for forward David Benoit, guard Kevin Edwards, center Yinka Dare and a 1998 first round draft pick. On the court, the Nets defeated the Detroit Pistons 114-101 at the CAA in the last game of the season to earn the final berth in the Eastern Conference playoffs. The Nets ended the season at 43-39, their best mark since the 1993-94 campaign. In the playoffs, the Nets fell to the defending World Champion Chicago Bulls in three games.

2015-16 BROOKLYN NETS MEDIA GUIDE

Year-by-Year Recaps: 1998-99

NBA experiences first shortened season in league history, playing 50 games; Nets acquire Stephon Marbury as part of a three team, nine player transaction; Don Casey named interim Head Coach on March 15, replacing John Calipari; Nets lose a total of 176 games due to injury among nine different players

Final Record: 16-34

Head Coach: John Calipari: 3-17 (.150); Don Casey: 13-17 (.433)

The New Jersey Nets began the 50-game 1998-99 season by splitting a home-and-home series with the Atlanta Hawks, giving every indication that they would challenge for the top spot in the NBA's Eastern Conference. But the injury bug hit the Nets early and hard, and the team was never able to pull itself from a severe tailspin that saw them lose 17 of their first 20 games. The Nets acquired Stephon Marbury, Chris Carr and Elliot Perry on March 11 as part of a three-team, nine-player transaction, and Don Casey became the Nets interim head coach on March 15, replacing John Calipari. By season's end, Jayson Williams, Keith Van Horn, Jim McIlvaine, Eric Murdock, Scott Burrell, Rony Seikaly and Kerry Kittles were all unable to play for the Nets due to injury, as the team was only able to muster 16 wins for the season.

2015-16 BROOKLYN NETS MEDIA GUIDE

Year-by-Year Recaps: 1999-00

Nets inconsistent season leaves them out of the playoffs for the second straight season; Stephon Marbury named All-NBA Third Team; Don Casey relieved of coaching duties at conclusion of the season

Head Coach: Don Casey

The Nets 1999-2000 season started poorly, as the team stumbled to a 2-13 mark under Head Coach Don Casey. Nets shooting guard Kerry Kittles returned to action in December and helped the Nets reverse their fortune, as they went 10-5 in the month, closing to within six games of the .500 mark. They would not post another winning month until March (9-7), and closed with an 11-game losing streak, including all 10 games in April. Stephon Marbury leads the team in scoring at 22.2 ppg, and makes All-NBA Third Team. Nets hire Rod Thorn as president in June, relieve Don Casey of his coaching duties and hire Byron Scott as head coach.

2015-16 BROOKLYN NETS MEDIA GUIDE

Year-by-Year Recaps: 2001-02

Nets win franchise record 52 games; Cop first-ever Atlantic Division and Eastern Conference titles; Make first-ever trip to the NBA finals, where they fall to the Lakers; Campaign is the most prolific in the NBA history of the franchise

Final Record: 52-30 (.634)

Head Coach: Byron Scott

It was quite simply, a year to remember. The New Jersey Nets, who only smelled the rarified air of the NBA Playoffs 10 times in their history, and made it to the second round only once, confounded the preseason prognosticators by establishing a franchise record by winning 52 regular season games, earning their first-ever Atlantic Division title. The Nets then defeated Indiana, Charlotte and Boston in the playoffs to cop their first-ever Eastern Conference title, and advanced to the NBA Finals for the first time in franchise history, eventually falling to the World Champion Los Angeles Lakers, 4-0. The Nets were led by MVP runner-up Jason Kidd, who smashed the Nets one-season assist mark, finished second in the league at 9.9 apg and averaged 14.7 ppg. Kenyon Martin led the team in scoring at 14.9 ppg, while Keith Van Horn led the Nets in rebounding at 7.5 rpg. Kidd led the Nets in scoring in each of the playoff series, and averaged a triple-double in the Eastern Conference Finals (17.5 ppg, 10.2 apg and 11.2 rpg), joining Magic Johnson as the only two players in NBA history to average a triple-double in a playoff series of six or more games. In the offseason, the Nets traded Keith Van Horn and Todd MacCulloch to Philadelphia for Dikembe Mutombo, and signed free agents Rodney Rogers and Chris Childs.

2015-16 BROOKLYN NETS MEDIA GUIDE

Year-by-Year Recaps: 2002-03

Nets win second consecutive Atlantic Division Championship; Sweep the Conference Semifinals vs. Boston and the Conference Finals vs. Detroit, claiming the Eastern Conference Championship for the second straight year; Fall to San Antonio 4-2 in the NBA Finals

Final Record: 49-33

Head Coach: Byron Scott

The 2001-02 Eastern Conference Champions began the new campaign in record setting fashion, winning 11 games in Oct./Nov. and setting a franchise record for wins in a month with 12 in December, which quickly re-established their presence in the Atlantic Division and Eastern Conference. Their swagger, their attitude and their toughness proved that the previous season was no fluke as they ended the season winning 49 games and wrapping up their second consecutive Atlantic Division title, the first time the franchise had ever posted back-to-back division championships. The Nets then defeated Milwaukee, Boston and Detroit in the playoffs to advance to the NBA Finals for the second straight season when they fell to the World Champion San Antonio Spurs in a tightly contested six game series. The Nets were led by Jason Kidd, who became the first New Jersey player to cop the NBA single-season assist title, as he led the league with an 8.9 apg average. Kidd ended the campaign as the Nets leading scorer at 18.7 ppg, the highest average of his career. Kidd led five Nets in double figure scoring, including Kenyon Martin (16.7 ppg), Richard Jefferson (15.5 ppg), Kerry Kittles (13.0 ppg) and Lucious Harris (10.3 ppg). Martin was also the team's leading rebounder at 8.3 rpg, the best of his three-year NBA career. Nets Head Coach Byron Scott ended the season with 127 career victories, two shy of the team-record 129 won by Kevin Loughery as head coach of the Nets from 1976-81.

2015-16 BROOKLYN NETS MEDIA GUIDE

Year-by-Year Recaps: 2003-04

Nets win third consecutive Atlantic Division Championship; Sweep the Knicks in the first round; Fall to Detroit in classic seven game series; Lawrence Frank replaces Byron Scott mid-season

Final Record: 47-35

Head Coach: Byron Scott: 22-20 (.520); Lawrence Frank: 25-15 (.625)

For the third consecutive season, the Nets won the Atlantic Division title and returned to the NBA Playoffs as the two-time defending NBA Eastern Conference Champions. That marked the first time the franchise had ever posted three straight division championships. On January 26, 2004, Lawrence Frank took over as head coach and in his first full month on the job he was named the 'Eastern Conference Coach of the Month' during the month of February. The Nets recorded their best record in franchise history in a month as far as winning percentage in February, at 11-2 (.846). The Nets set a franchise-best 14-game winning streak (10 in February) and had the best record in the NBA as far as winning percentage in February. Frank recorded the longest winning streak (13) by any new manager/coach to start a coaching career in any sport. In addition to the team accolades, the Nets' Jason Kidd became the first New Jersey player to cop back-to-back NBA single-season assist titles, as he led the league with a 9.2 average, his fifth assists title in his magnificent 10-year career (1998-99, 1999-2000, 2000-01, 2002-03). Richard Jefferson ended the campaign as the Nets leading scorer at 18.5 points, the highest average of his career. Jefferson led four Nets in double-figure scoring, including Kenyon Martin (16.7 ppg), Jason Kidd (15.5 ppg) and Kerry Kittles (13.1 ppg). Martin was also the team's leading rebounder at 9.5 rebounds.

2015-16 BROOKLYN NETS MEDIA GUIDE

Year-by-Year Recaps: 2004-05

Nets clinch playoff berth on the last day of the regular season; Carter sets highest average points per game of any Nets player in a single season

Final Record: 42-40 (.512)

Head Coach: Lawrence Frank

The Nets ended the 2004-05 season by clinching their fourth consecutive playoff appearance with the eighth seed in the Eastern Conference. The Nets acquired All-Star forward, Vince Carter from the Toronto Raptors in exchange for Alonzo Mourning, Aaron Williams, Eric Williams, and two first round draft picks on December 17. Carter ended the campaign at 27.5 ppg, the highest average of any Nets player in a single season in franchise history. Carter led four Nets in double-figure scoring, including Jason Kidd (14.4 ppg), Nenad Krstic (10.0 ppg) and Richard Jefferson (22.2 ppg). Kidd was the team's leading rebounder at 7.4 rpg, the best of his NBA career. New Jersey received a devastating blow to their line-up when Jefferson was lost for the regular season due to a left wrist injury on January 11. The Nets faced a playoff like atmosphere during the final month of the regular season and needed to win seven of their final eight regular season games to clinch the fourth consecutive playoff appearance, as they clinched the eighth seed in the Eastern Conference on the last day of the regular season. In the playoffs the Nets fell to the number one seeded Miami Heat in four games.

2015-16 BROOKLYN NETS MEDIA GUIDE

Year-by-Year Recaps: 2005-06

Nets win Atlantic Division title for the fourth time in five years; Defeat Indiana 4-2 in the First Round of the Eastern Conference Playoffs; Fall to Miami 4-1 in the Eastern Conference Semifinals

Final Record: 49-33 (.598)

Head Coach: Lawrence Frank

The Nets captured the Atlantic Division title for the fourth time in five seasons, culminating with a 49-33 record which tied the mark for the second best single season record in team history. The Nets notched the second most wins in franchise history thanks in large part to a record-tying 14 game win streak (3/12/06-4/6/06) and another 10 game win streak (12/16/06-4/6/06). In his first full season with the Nets, Vince Carter set a new Nets franchise scoring record (1,911 points). He was also named to the Eastern Conference All-Star Team for the seventh time and was named the Eastern Conference Player of the Month for December. Jason Kidd led the Nets in both rebounds (7.3 rpg) and assists (8.4 apg) for the second straight season while chipping in 13.3 ppg. The Nets finished the regular season on a 17-5 tear that helped them secure the third seed in the Eastern Conference Playoffs and a First Round matchup with the Indiana Pacers. The Nets disposed of the Pacers in six games before falling to the Miami Heat in five games in the Eastern Conference Semifinals.

2015-16 BROOKLYN NETS MEDIA GUIDE

Year-by-Year Recaps: 2006-07

Nets reach playoffs for franchise record sixth consecutive season; Lawrence Frank becomes all-time winningest coach in Nets franchise history; Jason Kidd passes Wilt Chamberlain into third on NBA's all-time triple double list; Vince Carter sets franchise record for points in a single season; Defeat Toronto 4-2 in First Round of Eastern Conference Playoffs; Fall to Cleveland 4-2 in Eastern Conference Semifinals.

Final Record: 41-41 (.500)

Head Coach: Lawrence Frank

The Nets stumbled out of the gates and endured a rash of injuries throughout the 2006-07 season, but ultimately found their way at the perfect time, as an unexpected star and a pair of franchise stalwarts propelled the Nets to the Eastern Conference Playoffs for a franchise record sixth consecutive season. With Richard Jefferson missing 23 games due to injuries to both ankles and Nenad Krstic missing 56 games due to a season ending torn ACL the Nets leaned on Jason Kidd and Vince Carter more than ever, and the All-Star backcourt responded triumphantly. Kidd became one of only three players in NBA history to average at least 13.0 points, 9.0 assists and 8.0 rebounds in a season, as he moved in to third on the NBA's all-time triple doubles list. Not to be outdone, Vince Carter scored a franchise record 2,070 points on the season. The Nets found another unlikely source of offense in Mikki Moore, led the league in field goal percentage at .609 (308-of-506). Nets Head Coach Lawrence Frank also hit a major milestone, as he became the all-time winningest coach in franchise history. The Nets used the momentum of their fast finish to oust the favored Toronto Raptors 4-2 in the first round, but were unable to get past the eventual Eastern Conference Champion Cleveland Cavaliers in the Conference Semifinals.

2015-16 BROOKLYN NETS MEDIA GUIDE

Year-by-Year Recaps: 2007-08

Nets missed the playoffs for the first time in seven seasons; on February 19, Nets trade Jason Kidd to Dallas in seven player deal on February 19, 2008, getting Devin Harris in return.

Final Record: 34-48 (.415)

Head Coach: Lawrence Frank

The Nets missed the playoffs for the first time in seven seasons after finishing 34-48. The story of the year was the mid-season, eight player trade that sent future Hall of Fame point guard Jason Kidd to Dallas. New Jersey struggled throughout the first half of the season and was on the wrong end of a six game losing streak in November and a nine-game losing streak in January. After the trade with Dallas on February 19, the Nets picked up their offensive efficiency scoring 6.2 more points per game (99.8 compared to 93.6) after the All-Star break. Several milestones were achieved during the season including Richard Jefferson surpassing Jason Kidd and moving into second place on the Nets all-time scoring list with 8,507 points. Jefferson also set a new franchise record for minutes played in a season with 3,200. Vince Carter moved past Kerry Kittles (7,096) into fourth on the Nets all-time scoring list with a total of 7,172 points after averaging a second best 21.3 points per game. Carter and Jefferson combined to score at least 20 points in the same game 28 times, which is the second highest 20-point performance combination in a season in Nets history.

2015-16 BROOKLYN NETS MEDIA GUIDE

Year-by-Year Recaps: 2008-09

The Nets missed the playoffs for the second consecutive year after reaching the postseason the previous seven seasons; On June 26, selected first round draft picks Brook Lopez (10th) and Ryan Anderson (21st), as well as trading Richard Jefferson to Milwaukee for Yi Jianlian and Bobby Simmons.

Final Record: 34-48 (.414)

Head Coach: Lawrence Frank

2008-09 marked the second consecutive season the Nets missed the playoffs, finishing with a 34-48 record. After making the playoffs the previous seven seasons, the youth and inexperience caught up to the Nets, dropping them into a tie for 11th in the Eastern Conference at seasons end. There were a few big stories including the draft night trade that sent long-time Net Richard Jefferson to Milwaukee for Yi Jianlian and Bobby Simmons. With the departure of Jefferson, the younger players had to develop quickly. Brook Lopez, selected 10th overall from Stanford, did exactly that. Lopez finished third in the Rookie of the Year voting, was named the Eastern Conference Rookie of the Month in consecutive months (January and February), was named to the NBA All-Rookie first team, and played in all 82 games. Lopez ranked ninth in the NBA in blocks per game at 1.84 and first among rookies, finishing the season with 151 total blocks. That mark surpassed the previous Nets rookie record of 113 blocks, set by Kenyon Martin in the 2000-01 season. Devin Harris, in his second year with New Jersey, made the All-Star team for the first time in his career. The Nets had the highest scoring starting backcourt in the league with Harris ranked 14th and averaging 21.3 points per game and Vince Carter ranked 16th while averaging 20.8 points per game. Harris improved his scoring average by 6.5 points from the previous season and was one of five players to average at least 21.0 points and 6.9 assists per game. He also tallied 40+ points on three different occasions. Forward Bobby Simmons finished the season ranked fifth in the NBA in three-point field goal percentage at .447 (117-262).

2015-16 BROOKLYN NETS MEDIA GUIDE

Year-by-Year Recaps: 2010-11

The Nets double win total from previous year in Avery Johnson's first season as head coach.

Final Record: 24-58 (.293)

Head Coach: Avery Johnson

In his first season as head coach of the New Jersey Nets, Avery Johnson improved the Nets record by doubling the team wins to 24. After another slow start, the Nets looked to the future by completing a 3-team trade, which landed NBA All-Star, Deron Williams. Although only playing 12 games because of injury, Williams's presence was immediately felt, as the Nets became one of the highest scoring teams post All-Star break. His 47 assists were an NBA record for a player in his first 3 games with a new team and no Net before him recorded double doubles in their first 5 games with the team.

2015-16 BROOKLYN NETS MEDIA GUIDE

Year-by-Year Recaps: 2011-12

The Nets win 22 games in lockout-shortened and final New Jersey season.

Final Record: 22-44 (.333)

Head Coach: Avery Johnson

While playing their final season in New Jersey before moving to Brooklyn, the Nets struggled for the third year in a row, finishing last in the Atlantic Division. In his first full season with the Nets, Deron Williams led the team in scoring (21.0), assists (8.7), and minutes (36.3) per game, which earned him the right to represent New Jersey at the 2012 All-Star game. During a Nets preseason game, Brook Lopez broke his right foot and would miss the first 32 regular season games, and went on to play only five games during the lockout-shortened season. Kris Humphries was able to provide an inside presence, as he would lead the team in rebounds (11.0) and blocks (1.19) per game.

2015-16 BROOKLYN NETS MEDIA GUIDE

Year-by-Year Recaps: 2012-13

Franchise relocates to Brooklyn, NY and opens Barclays Center. Win 49 games and reaches playoffs in first season as Brooklyn Nets.

Final Record: 49-33 (.598)

Head Coach: Avery Johnson/P.J. Carlesimo

In their inaugural season in Brooklyn, the Nets brought playoff basketball to Barclays Center after finishing second in the Atlantic Division and ending a franchise playoff drought that stretched back to the 2006-07 season. Although Brooklyn was eliminated in an epic seven-game series by the Chicago Bulls, the Nets, led by first-time All-Star Brook Lopez, took a giant leap forward and solidified themselves as a contender in the Eastern Conference. The trio of Lopez (19.4 ppg), Deron Williams (18.9 ppg, 7.7 apg) and Joe Johnson (16.3 ppg) led the Nets, with Johnson's clutch late-game heroics providing some signature moments in the return of professional sports to Brooklyn for the first time since 1957.

2015-16 BROOKLYN NETS MEDIA GUIDE

Year-by-Year Recaps: 2013-14

Nets win 44 games and advance to the NBA Eastern Conference Semifinals

Final Record: 44-38 (.537)

Head Coach: Jason Kidd

With a 44-38 finish in the team's second season in Brooklyn, the Nets advanced to the Eastern Conference Semifinals after defeating the Atlantic Division champion Toronto Raptors in a seven-game first round series in the 2014 NBA Playoffs. Although Brooklyn was then eliminated 4-1 by the Miami Heat, the Nets' Game 7 win against Toronto in the first round marked the team's first playoff Game 7 victory in franchise history. After a slow start to the season, the Nets went 34-17 under Head Coach Jason Kidd in 2014 to make their playoff push, including a franchise-record 15-game home winning streak from 2/3/14 to 4/4/14. Joe Johnson was named an All-Star for the seventh time in his career and his first time as a Net, while rookie Mason Plumlee earned All-Rookie First Team honors.

2015-16 BROOKLYN NETS MEDIA GUIDE

Year-by-Year Recaps: 2014-15

Nets advance to the NBA Playoffs for the third consecutive season under direction of Lionel Hollins

Final Record: 38-44 (.463)

Head Coach: Lionel Hollins

Following a 38-44 season under the direction of Head Coach Lionel Hollins, the Nets brought NBA Playoffs basketball to Brooklyn for the third consecutive season. Although the team fell to Atlanta 4-2 in the Eastern Conference First Round, Brooklyn's season was headlined by the return of Brook Lopez. After an injury-shortened 2013-14 season, Lopez returned to lead the Nets in 2014-15 with averages of 17.2 ppg, 7.4 rpg and 1.8 bpg – all team-highs – and seven games of 30+ points. Lopez also won Eastern Conference Player of the Week honors in consecutive weeks (3/23-3/29 and 3/30-4/5), becoming the only player in the NBA to earn the award in back-to-back weeks that season and the only Net to do so in franchise history. Brooklyn also added Thaddeus Young to the Nets' roster during the NBA All-Star Break in a trade for veteran Kevin Garnett, while rookie Bojan Bogdanovic made a splash in his debut for the Nets, earning Eastern Conference Rookie of the Month honors in April before being named to the NBA All-Rookie Second Team.

Teams will play divisional opponents four times each (two home games/two road games), conference opponents outside the division three or four times each and opponents outside the conference two times each (one home game/one road game). The first four seeds in each conference will be given to the three division winners and the team with the next best regular season record, but these four teams will be seeded in order of their regular season records. The remaining four playoff berths for each conference will be based on regular season records with no regard to divisional alignment. Home court advantage throughout the NBA playoffs will be based solely on regular season record, not playoff seeding, thus a divisional winner that has a higher playoff seed than an opponent will not necessarily have home court advantage in the playoff series.

The following are the playoff pairings:

Two-Way Tie

In order to break a tie for playoff positions at the close of the regular season, the following criteria will be utilized in the order set forth:

1. Better winning percentage in games against each other.
2. Better winning percentage against teams in own division (only if tied teams are in the same division).
3. Better winning percentage within own conference.
4. Better winning percentage against teams eligible for playoffs in own conference (including teams that finished the regular season tied for a playoff position).
5. Better winning percentage against teams eligible for playoffs in opposite conference (including teams that finished the regular season tied for a playoff position.)
6. Better net result of total points scored less total points allowed against all opponents ('Point differential').

More Than Two Teams Tied

1. Better winning percentage in all games among the tied teams.
2. Better winning percentage against teams in own division (only if all tied teams are in same division).
3. Better winning percentage against teams in own conference.
4. Better winning percentage against teams eligible for playoffs in own conference (including teams that finished the regular season tied for a playoff position).
5. Better net result of total points scored less total points allowed against all opponents ('Point differential').

Media Information

The Brooklyn Nets look forward to their 40th season in the NBA, and their fourth at Barclays Center in Brooklyn.

Nets media credentials are issued for the purpose of providing access to locker rooms, media work rooms, the press lounge, and in most cases, media seating. Credentials must be visible at all times. At no time should a credential be used for access to a locker room for autographs.

Season credentials will be issued to all recognized media outlets that plan to cover all Nets home games and who make a reasonable request on company letterhead. Season credentials are non-transferable. Individual game credentials should be requested a minimum of 24 hours prior to game time (Friday noon for weekend contests). These passes may be picked up three and a half hours prior to game time at the press entrance, located on Atlantic Avenue.

Single-game photo passes will be issued in the same manner as other credentials. Newspapers and magazines on assignment may obtain passes by having the photo editor request a single game credential in writing. Freelance photographers requesting credentials must submit a letter from the editor, with a specific assignment from an accredited publication. Single game photo passes are issued on a space available basis.

Limitations and guidelines for credential use appear on the back of your credential and on signs in the press room. Please adhere to these regulations.

In accordance with NBA policy, locker rooms will be open to members of the media for a 30-minute period, beginning 75 minutes prior to game time, and re-open 10 minutes after the conclusion of the game.
